

PUTTING YOU IN THE PICTURE

■ Three accounting students of Bahrain Polytechnic presented their industry project at Bahrain Business Incubator Centre (BBIC). Ahmed Merza, Bader bin Jamal and Zahra Abdulaziz presented findings following an extensive research on the industry market. BBIC and Bahrain Polytechnic officials attended the presentation ceremony. Above, the students with officials.

■ GPIC has pledged to support the activities of the Royal Charity Organisation (RCO). It came as RCO secretary-general Dr Mustafa Al Sayed visited the company's complex in Sitra and met president Abdulrahman Jawahery. Mr Jawahery praised the RCO's role and its support for orphans and widows, under the directives of chairman Shaikh Nasser bin Hamad Al Khalifa. Above, Dr Al Sayed, left, with Mr Jawahery.

■ Harley-Davidson Bahrain celebrated Mother's Day by honouring two female employees at the company in Budaiya. They were accounts manager Indu Rajesh and administration manager Kath Salvador. Above, employees during a cake-cutting ceremony.

Rioters go on the rampage in Sitra

RIOTERS went on a rampage in Sitra yesterday after they visited the grave of a man whose family claims he died as a result of complications from inhaling tear gas.

The Public Prosecution's Special Investigations Unit earlier concluded the unnamed Bahraini died in hospital on March 14 as a result of lung failure caused by respiratory diseases. It confirmed there was no sign of tear gas in his lungs.

The GDN witnessed rioters, holding pictures of the deceased, blocking roads leading to the area where he lived with burning tyres.

They also threw stones and Molotov cocktails at police, who responded with tear gas.

Saboteurs blocked Budaiya Highway near the Country Mall with burning tyres at around 3pm sparking traffic chaos.

Meanwhile, a suspicious object was found on Shaikh Khalifa bin Salman Highway.

■ Rioters throw Molotov cocktails at police. Right, riot police disperse protesters who blocked a road in Sitra

■ Four customers of YK Almoayed and Sons' heavy equipment division were taken on a trip to Japan's UD Trucks factory. The delegates included Zinj Transport Company representative Ali Abdullah, Bapco representative Ahmed Isa, Ramsis Engineering representative Zuhair Abdulla and Al Manaratain Group representative Sami Yusuf as well as the division's senior manager Georgekutty Thomas. They also took part in a test drive of the new generation truck QUON and enjoyed a taste of Japanese heritage and culture during the visit. Above, UD Trucks Corporation president Yusuke Sakaue, left, receiving a souvenir from the Bahraini delegation during the trip.

■ GPIC employees donated blood during a camp organised at the company's medical centre in Sitra. Eighty-seven employees, led by company president Abdulrahman Jawahery, took part. Above, staff donate blood at the camp.