Parents urged to speed up son's burial

PARLIAMENT'S human rights committee chairman Ahmed Al Sa'ati yesterday met the parents of Abdulaziz Al Abbar, whose body has been lying in Salmaniya Medical Complex (SMC) morgue since April 18.

Mr Al Sa'ati urged them to speed up their son's burial in accordance with Islamic teachings.

He stressed that the death certificate – which currently states the cause as brain haemorrhage – must not become an obstacle to the burial of their son.

Mr Al Sa'ati said he had met the head of Public Prosecution's Special Investigation Unit, who confirmed that investigations into the case are ongoing and a final report will be issued once all technical and legal procedures are finalised.

He urged the parents to follow up the case with the Public Prosecution and even resort to court if the report gets delayed.

The 53-year-old father claims his son died from head injuries suffered when he was shot during clashes between police and protesters on February 23 after a funeral procession in Saar.

He was taken to SMC for treatment, but died a month later.
