Our environment inspires us to learn, create and innovate. Our environment is a platform for the real estate ecosystem to flourish. It is a platform for the educational aspects of life to flourish.

In order to create an environment conducive to learning, care must be taken in ensuring that the surroundings are a reflection of Polytechnic's endeavours towards education.

This is an example of an environment design with the recommended usage of the Polytechnic design elements and colours.

In general we should maintain the use of the Polytechnic's colours. The colours red and blue, however, should be used minimally. There should also be enough

Incorporation of the Polytechnic pattern into the design. It can be used on walls, floors or even ceilings. Shadow art is also a possible way to show the patterns. Large Inspiring Images are desirable but not to excess.

The use of plants and water will also add life and freshness to the environment.
