Bahrain Polytechnic organised an event to enhance its educational quality with the help of technology. They invited several technological companies for product introductions. Discussions focused on ways to replace the traditional whiteboard in classrooms with TV's and interactive screens. Usage of interactive screens, compatibility of smart phones with the screen and usage of electronic devices to answer questions were discussed. Above, tutor Paul demonstrating the interactive whiteboard.

Overseas Indian Cultural Congress (OICC) will conduct a reception to honour Kerala Chief Minister Oommen Chandy, the recipient of United Nation's (UN) Public Service Award. The award was in recognition of his services to the people in addressing their grievances through a project called 'Mass Contact Programme'. The reception will be held on Thursday at Indian School ground, Isa Town at 7.30pm. Mr. Chandy will be joining the function after receiving the award at a function to be held at Bahrain National Theatre. A musical performance by prominent playback singers Anwar Sadath and Celine Jose will be held during the reception. Above, members of the organising committee at the Press conference. Right, Mr Chandy.
