

MUHARRAQ CLUB EXTENDS SIGNING NATIONAL DOCUMENT

The club plans to make the signing online through its website

DT News Network
Manama

The Muharraq club has extended the signing of the national document for few more days and to launch it on its website to be signed by Bahrainis abroad. Participants in signing the national document have expressed support for the Cabinet's statement issued yesterday on Sitra terror bombing.

Current and former parliamentarians and municipality members, representatives of sport clubs and scores of citizens have uttered denunciation of the flagrant Iranian interference in Bahrain's internal affairs which is in violation of principles of good neighbourliness, international laws and norms and Organisation of Islamic Cooperation.

The participants condemned Sitra terror attack, which targeted on duty policemen by the use of Iranian weapons smuggled by sea by terrorists who had trained in the Iranian Revolutionary Guard camps.

They welcomed Prime Minister HRH Prince Khalifa bin Salman Al Khalifa's call for promptly bringing perpetrators of the terror bombing to justice. They reiterated pledges of allegiance to

Current and former parliamentarians and municipality members, representatives of sport clubs and scores of citizens have uttered denunciation of the flagrant Iranian interference

His Majesty King Hamad bin Isa Al Khalifa, HRH the Premier and Crown Prince, Deputy Supreme Commander and First Deputy Prime Minister HRH Prince Salman bin Hamad Al Khalifa.

They hailed the efforts of the Interior Ministry's personnel led by the Minister of Interior Lt. Gen. Shaikh Rashid bin Abdulla Al Khalifa in maintaining the homeland's security and stability and foiling weapons and explosives smuggling attempts from Iran which refuge fugitives and trains terrorists.

Supporters signing the document

150 students benefited from national training programme

DT News Network
Manama

As many as 150 students benefited under the national training programme implemented by the General Secretariat of the Council for Higher Education, from 14 public and private Bahraini institutions. Seven of these students elaborate on their training experience with the national programme for field training.

In the period between July 26 to September 4, a variety of training opportunities were available for students including in graphic designing, media, statistics, chemical engineering, mechanical engineering, etc.

Faisal Al Mahmood, a law student from Kingdom University claims he benefited from labour market requirements. "Such training programmes and courses are great opportunities for university students to theories into practice in the labour market." He pointed out that his experience in working at the Bahrain Chamber of Commerce and Industry earned him the practical skills as well as academic ones.

Teamwork skills

Zahra Khalid, an English Literature student from University of Bahrain said that she benefited from teamwork skills under the programme. "University students are hungry for such training opportunities given its practicality," she said. Zahra noted that she learned a lot from interning as a translator and learning teamwork skills in the General Secretariat of the Council for Higher Education.

Amir Jaffar

Professional abilities

Amir Jaffar, a Mechanical Engineering student from Bahrain Polytechnic confirmed that Bahrain Petroleum Company (BAPCO) has enhanced his professional abilities. He noted that regardless of a degree of academic excellence in theoretical subjects, it is an urgent need to strengthen the practical side to be able to achieve a successful career after graduation.

Zahra Makki, a student from AMA University noted that the training programme has given her the precious opportunity to link theoretical application, which she is currently being trained in BAPCO. Zahra added that she benefited greatly from human resources management.

Faisal Al Mahmood

Zahra Khalid

Noor Abdunnasser, an accounting student from University of Bahrain confirmed that the programme contributed to the development of her capabilities and strengths, stressing on the importance of hands-on training for senior university students to help them prepare efficiently for the labour market.

Noor Abdunnasser

Turkey Abdullah

Thirsty for training opportunities

Rabab Ebrahim, a banking student at the University of Bahrain explained that her experience in working for the Ernst and young firm stimulated her personal capabilities and diligence, which is allowing her to run her life in a successful process.

Turkey Abdullah, accounting

Rabab Ebrahim

Zahra Makki

student at the University of Bahrain expressed his delight in getting trained at PricewaterhouseCoopers (trading as PwC), pointing out that the company specializes in the field of audit which is part of his academic specialization, and this is what earned him the ability to recruit his information in theory to a practical field which only boosted his personal potential.